The tri-lingual province had to be reached this instant and so it was time for blastoff... for danger. Polaris, shaded in top secrecy would need cracker jack support along with the stoic discretion inherent in any three year mission. Life Captain Drew Maddy Waters produced and mixed the year one (1-2-5-7) and guided the ship through the difficult asteroid fields of the Hoonosus System. Years two and three were turned over to Captain TBuck Buckland to produce and mix (3-4-6-8-9-10-11-12). Exploiting the riches of the Providence Nebulae, Tom Chase was chosen to play Organ and Piano, Buell Thomas to play Trumpet and Sir Dennis Kelly to play Pedal Steel Guitar. A million separate events in a billion galaxies and the tri-lingual province in a solar sweat, decisions had to be made. Telepathitician Joyce Raskin sang with Muggy on #9 and backround choruses were from the centuries old clan of the Cummins, First Officers Mark V and Tomulon. The final crew member was Rookie Mappa Mundi, six string dialectician. A province, a planet, a people in danger. Invention, conception, launch, and results. This mission was developed in the art-science unit by system cogitate and sonic arbiter, Commander Will McRobb. He, along with colleague Chriss Virgil Vascardi proposed the plan to the 1515 Hi-Floor control and put into action on 1-1-99 by Kevin Kay.

Atomics and multi-satellite docking relays were sequenced by Tamberelli & Huss and all optical and solar screen overlays were fitted and controlled by the Maronna Group. Flight and post launch astro-monitoring by Liza Klein, Catherine Mullally and Deborah Straffela. Ship designed by Tim Swan. All songs written by Mark Mulcahy, copyright and published 1999, published by Paymarx Music. Write to Polaris c/o The Mezzotint Label, P.O. Box 1634, New Haven, CT. 06507 USA or www.mezzotint.com.
